

THE KACC

The Korean Art and Culture Committee (KACC) is a group of museum members who have a special interest in Korean art and culture.

Founded in 1989, the KACC has supported the Korean Art Department from its inception, through the move to the much acclaimed Korean Galleries in the current location of the Asian Art Museum.

Our committee is dedicated to acquiring, conserving, and displaying the timeless beauty of Korean art as one of the longest and richest artistic traditions in the world—one that continues today with a vibrant contemporary art movement.

We actively support the Korean Art Department at the Asian Art Museum by raising funds for acquisitions and assisting in the efforts of the department to expand and enhance the permanent collection of Korean Art. Over the past 20 years, the committee has been able to purchase thirty objects to add to the permanent collection, playing an important role in the strengthening of the Korean art collection at the museum. We also foster a greater understanding and enjoyment of Korean art and culture by providing education and outreach programs. We welcome your participation in our efforts and invite you to join our committee.
